ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An image forming apparatus disclosed herein includes a detecting section for detecting that the lifetime of an expendable used to form images is
5 expiring, a counting section for counting a used amount of the expendable when the detecting section detects that the lifetime of the expendable is expiring, and a control section for disregarding the fact that the lifetime of the expendable is expiring, even when the 10 fact is detected again before the used amount of the expendable, which is counted by the counting section, reaches a prescribed value.
